Introduction

The Ilorin Innovation Hub is the branch of His Excellency Mallam AbdulRahman AbdulRazaq established to transform Kwara into an economically viable and self-sustainable state via digital literacy, youth empowerment, innovation and technology.

The Kwara State Government is open to partnerships to ensure that the Hub is sustainable and running smoothly, hence this invitation to explore the different ways in which your organization can partner to make the Ilorin Innovation Hub a public-sector owned but be privately driven success.

Governing Council

The Abdulrahman-led administration of the Kwara State Government has assembled a Governing Council to help achieve its dream of a vibrant tech hub that will produce the top entrepreneurs and startups in Africa in the next five years. The Council is comprised of some of the most successful names in the Nigerian private sector and technology space.

This Council has been charged not only to oversee the affairs of the Hub but also to ensure the funds raised are put to judicious use outside of any form of bureaucracy.

The Facility

Ilorin Innovation Hub will be a technology centre that will house coworking spaces, startup incubators and startup accelerators programs. The coworking space will allow individuals or companies to work out of the hub with shared resources like internet, printing, cafeteria etc. There will be regular tech events and competitions.

The incubator program will house some promising startups creating local impact that will be resident long-term and will add to the local economy of Kwara State. These could either be funded by the state government or private investors. The accelerator programs will focus on funding and growing startups in particular sectors and prepare them for scaling and growth.

The Facility

Fully Equipped Co-working Space

This will allow entrepreneurs and free-lancers to work out of a conducive environment with affordable plans.

There will be daily, weekly and monthly membership plans with lots of benefits and access to a large pool of partner resources like software, cloud tools, financial and legal advisory, tax consulting etc.

Conference and Training Facilities

The hub will have a facility for technology trainings and conferences. We will be selective on what type of events to host with a focus on technology, development, sharing of ideas and innovation. We are looking to host events as large as TEDx.

We would also welcome IT and digital training programs to be conducted within the hub.

Tech Companies and Startups

This will house startups and another technology-focused companies in leased office space. We are hoping that our young entrepreneurs can grow beyond the co-working space and rent office suites within the hub.

We also welcome startups from other parts of the country to move to Ilorin or situate teams within our hub.

Retail Stores

Within the hub will be retail stores that the visitors and residents of the Ilorin Innovation Hub can patronise for their needs and convenience.

Retail stores available to companies in the following industries electronics, books, technology, travel, stationery, banking with others open to consideration.

Startup Accelerator Programs

This will have short programs for training and mentoring startups and should be powered by global tech companies and accelerators.

To start with, there will be two cohorts a year each accelerating five to ten startups. Seed funding will be provided to help these startups grow and gain traction while preparing them for potential investors at their graduation demo day.

Food Court

With young people and a budding community the food court will serve as the meeting point for ideas, meetings and conversation.

The food court will also allow more than one food vendor with shared seating for all customers.

Co-Branding Sponsorship

The Ilorin Innovation Hub is looking to co-brand all or parts of its building to potential sponsors. We are looking for sponsors in the Information Communication Technology, Financial and Telecommunications sectors to join us in running the largest and most architecturally advanced tech hub in Africa.

With our edifice, we are assured of the highest levels of exposure and media hype the Ilorin Innovation Hub will get, as well as a very conducive environment for young talent to grow.

Sponsor funds will be paid into to the Kwara State Innovation and Technology Fund to cover operational running of the Innovation Hub. This fund is to be managed by our Governing Council.
