A total of 429 participants engaged across physical and virtual sessions, with strong attendance and increased women's participation. Activities during the month emphasised peer learning, ecosystem alignment, founder readiness, and community bonding, while also advancing ongoing technical training programmes.

Program Overview

Program Goal

To cultivate a resilient and inclusive innovation ecosystem that supports peer learning, strengthens collaboration, and prepares talents and early-stage founders for sustainable growth. In December, IIH focused on reflection, alignment, and practical capacity development across the ecosystem. Programs emphasised skill sharing, soft-skill development, customer traction for founders, and community connection, while sustaining ongoing technical training and concluding key talent development pipelines. Collectively, these activities supported ecosystem cohesion, founder readiness, and talent progression ahead of the new year.
