

HR Report January 2026

1. Executive Summary

The Human Resources Department maintained effective operations throughout January 2026, with continued focus on workforce management, employee welfare, statutory compliance, and administrative support. The month under review recorded changes in the NYSC corps member population, alongside the fulfilment of statutory obligations to regulatory bodies.

Key activities during the period included the onboarding of new corps members, the exit of one corps member for compensation, and the successful payment of the Industrial Training Fund (ITF) contribution.

Key highlights for the month include:

- Onboarding of two new NYSC corps members.
- Exit of one NYSC corps member.
- Successful payment of Industrial Training Fund contribution.
- Continuous monitoring of staff welfare, attendance, and productivity.
- Sustained compliance with internal policies and statutory requirements.

2. Workforce Overview

As at the end of January 2026, the organization's workforce strength stood as follows

- Permanent Staff: 16
- Contract Staff: 3
- NYSC Corps Members: 6
- Interns: 3

Total Workforce: 28

3. Recruitment & Staffing

Recruitment activities in January 2026 were limited to NYSC corps member engagement. Two new corps members were successfully onboarded. No permanent or contract staff recruitment was carried out during the month.

4. Employee Demographics

As at the end of January 2026, the organization had a total workforce of 28 individuals, comprising permanent staff, contract staff, NYSC corps members, and interns.

The workforce continues to reflect a balanced mix of experienced professionals and early-career personnel, supporting operational efficiency and effective knowledge transfer.

HR remains committed to fostering inclusivity and equitable representation across all staff categories.

5. Training & Development

Staff and corps members continued to benefit from on-the-job training, mentorship, and close supervision by departmental leads. These initiatives supported skill enhancement, collaboration, and improved task delivery.

Plans remain in place to introduce more structured internal training sessions in subsequent months.

6. Performance Management

Overall performance across departments remained satisfactory during January 2026. Supervisors maintained routine monitoring of attendance, task execution, and adherence to organizational standards.

During the period under review, one staff member was issued a query in line with organizational policy. No major performance gaps or disciplinary issues were recorded beyond this.

7. Compensation & Benefits

Salaries, allowances, and stipends for staff and corps members were processed promptly during the month. In addition, the organization successfully completed the payment of its Industrial Training Fund (ITF) statutory contribution, in compliance with regulatory requirements.

HR continues to ensure accuracy, transparency, and compliance in all compensation and benefits matters.

Conclusion

January 2026 recorded stable HR operations, effective workforce coordination, and continued compliance with statutory obligations. The HR Department remains aligned with management priorities and committed to providing strategic people support, consistent policy governance, and a stable workforce framework to support organizational objectives in the coming months.